Vicente Gonzalez Sides with Radical Left, Turns His Back on South Texas

SAN BENITO, TX - Instead of standing with the people of South Texas, Congressman Vicente Gonzalez chose to stand with the radical fringe of his party.

Gonzalez voted against the Safeguard American Voter Eligibility SAVE Act, commonsense legislation that requires proof of United States citizenship to register to vote in federal elections and strengthens election integrity.

Rather than serving as the independent voice South Texas was promised, Gonzalez aligned himself with the same far left politicians driving the national Democratic agenda, figures like Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez and Jasmine Crockett, politicians who are wildly out of touch with South Texas values and the everyday realities facing families along the border.

South Texas believes in secure borders.
South Texas believes in the rule of law.
South Texas believes American elections should be decided by American citizens.

The SAVE Act simply ensures that only eligible United States citizens vote in federal elections. That is not extreme. That is basic accountability.

Yet Vicente Gonzalez voted no.

“When you vote to weaken safeguards around our elections, you weaken trust in the entire system,” said Eric Flores, candidate for Congress in Texas’ 34th District. “And when you consistently side with radical Washington politicians over the people back home, you should not be surprised when South Texas loses trust in you.”

For too long, Gonzalez has campaigned as a moderate while governing in alignment with the most extreme voices in Washington.

South Texas does not need a rubber stamp. South Texas needs backbone.

South Texas will remember!
